THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR, NO. 37.

BAY CITY SCHOOLS HAVE MORE THAN 400 STUDENTS NEW PRIMARY TEACHER

Athletic Coaches for Girls and Boys Secured—Night School to Open Monday—More Than 100 Students of Primary Age Enrolled

Bay St. Louis city schools opened Monday morning with more than 400 students enrolled, some of these being newcomers to the Coast, others representing children entering school for the first year, yet others being children of parents who reside here during the summer and are remaining for the winter while yet others come through tuition students from other schools.

An additional teacher for the primary department will have to be added in a few days as soon as a teacher can be secured and a place for the meeting of the classes arranged. Prof. S. J. Ingram announced. More than 100 students of primary age enrolled this term. For the present the children are attending school in relays, some in the morning periods and others in the afternoon periods until adequate arrangements can be perfected.

Twelve high school students are being transported from Logtown to the Bay high school daily.

A music teacher has been secured in the person of Miss Attica Atkinson of New Orleans, a Sophie Newcomb graduate, who will also teach some grade work.

This is the first year that the school has had a coach and athletic director for girls. Miss Gwyn Sims who fills this position is planning some most interesting work for the girls of the school.

Coach C. E. Craft who is in charge of boys athletics is meeting a fine group of football prospects daily. All the old team and a number of new boys are out for practice and a good team is anticipated. A strong schedule will be made up of the large schools is being arranged including the Jesuit high school of New Orleans. The complete schedule will be announced soon.

Night School to Open
The night school which is conducted annually under the auspices of the Rotary Club and state vocational committee, will open Monday night, September 17, and all students interested in attending this school are asked to report at that time. Prof. Ingram who will have charge of the school, announces.

CITY LEVY IS FIXED 29 MILLS

City Lowers Levy 3 Mills—Equalizes Assessment—Have New Fire Engine

The city commissioners have fixed the levy for city property for the ensuing year at 29 mills. This is a decrease of 3 mills in all levies throughout the city.

The commissioners have been working on the assessment rolls of the city and have completed the work. This work has had to do primarily with equalizing the assessment on the city property. In some instances assessments have been lowered and in others assessments have been raised, thus giving an equalized proportionment to all taxpayers.

The lower levy has been made possible through an economic administration of the city's finances, it was said.

The city has placed in its budget for next year a new fire engine. It is thought that this engine will be purchased early in January after the collection of the year's taxes.

This new route, if established, will cause the discontinuance of route No. 26,263, from Logtown to Weston, in that the new route will cover the same territory now served by this shorter route, as well as add the further daily delivery.

The appointment of the carrier for this proposed route will be made October 1.

Benefit Successful.

Quite successful was the benefit dance given Saturday night by the Cedar Grove Tent No. 507, Woodmen of the World, for Gus Thomas, a member who was injured several weeks ago when a saw at the local ice plant cut his knee and who is in a very poor condition, his leg giving him great trouble and pain and who is at the King's Daughters Hospital, Gulfport, for treatment. A nice sum was realized at the dance and this has been presented to his wife for her and that of their children.

A subscription has been taken among friends of Mr. Thomas here in the bay and several kind things have been done to raise funds to aid this family at the time the source of income is cut off in the illness of Mr. Thomas.

PHYSICIANS APPROVE CO. UNIT

The Harrison-Stone-Hancock Counties Medical Society at its recent meeting voted unanimously endorsing the maintenance of a full time health unit in Hancock county and adopted resolutions to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors presenting a request that this unit be continued. The resolution stated that the maintenance of a full time health unit in Hancock county would be disastrous to the Mississippi Coast to abolish the all time health office and to establish a part-time health office instead.

Excerpts from the communication sent to the board of supervisors by the Medical Society follows: "This conclusion was reached after a very close, careful and scientific survey of past records of Public Health administration in yours and adjoining counties.

"Accurate and carefully checked statistical data would indicate a reduction of communicable diseases under the direction of a full time health officer approximately fifty per cent.

"It may be borne in mind that the Mississippi Coast comprises the counties of Jackson, Harrison and Hancock and that the Harrison and Hancock counties have full time Health officers devoting their entire time to Public Health work in all its ramifications and we feel are fully convinced that Hancock County is a part of our county of the entire Mississippi Coast in our Health program.

"From inquiries that have come in we feel that the Mississippi Coast is destined to be a great and prosperous section and that our chief asset, among many others, is the healthful condition of our people.

"Numerous enterprises are making inquiries through the Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations with reference to conditions affecting their location, and the most critical inquiry is of the healthful condition of the county. Any unfavorable report emanating from your county of lowering of health standards of your county would react most unfavorably for the entire Coast."

The resolutions were signed by Dr. Joe Evans, acting president, and Dr. J. W. Williams, secretary-treasurer of the Medical Society. This action was taken by the Medical Society, it was stated, because of the election ordered by the board of supervisors to determine the wishes of the voters of the county regarding the continuance of the full time health unit.

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES OF BOARD

Paid Various Sums—Reappointed Home Dem. Agt.—Exempt Boats

Hancock County Board of Supervisors at the regular September meeting ordered the sum of $50,566.13, paid to the Southern Paving Construction Company as the second payment made for the work on the Bay-Waveland-Lakeshore highway now under construction.

C. F. Lytle was paid $11,059.72, which is next to the last estimate to be paid for the construction of the seawall. About $70,000 to $80,000 remains to be paid for the sea wall, it is estimated.

J. W. Billingsley, contracting engineer on the Bay-Waveland-Lakeshore highway was paid $2,127.10, his percentage on the work completed this month.

Agent Reappointed
Miss Mayme O'Dom, who has been home demonstration agent in Hancock county for several years, was again appointed to this position by the board at its meeting.

Bessie Rainey, colored home demonstration agent, was reappointed to serve another year in this position.

An order was passed by the board of supervisors which exempts boats from the gasoline tax paid in Hancock county by motor vehicles which use gasoline as fuel.

The board voted to pay to the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport $500, to be utilized as heretofore by that institution in charity work for patients from this county.

EXCELLENT PIECE ADVERTISING

September number "Mississippi Builder," published at Jackson, is at hand and is another splendid number. On page 35 appears a full page advertisement of City of Bay St. Louis, written by the local Director of Public Relations, N. W. Wilson, and a 100-perfect that will attract nation wide attention.

Hamilton Dutcher, managing editor, endorses this advertisement with something more than has ever done. He says: "The above represents a concrete example of community advertising of excellent type and is an exact reproduction. I have personally visited Bay St. Louis and investigated the facts stated in this circular and found them to be absolutely accurate."

KING'S DAUGHTERS ADD FULL TIME NURSE AT HOSPITAL

State Convention will be Held at Meridian Oct. 23, It Is Announced

The Bay St. Louis Circle of King's Daughters and Sons held an interesting meeting Monday afternoon at the Hotel Weston, the regular monthly meeting. A fine report was read and approved from the chairman of the Emergency Hospital for the past month. So many patients have been treated that an all time nurse, Mrs. McCracken, has been secured for the hospital.

The King's Daughters state convention will be held in Meridian October 23, according to a communication from the state president. The hostess chapter is planning many social courtesies for the delegates and a good program has been arranged for the meeting, it was announced.

For each ten members in good standing the local chapter will have a delegate to the state convention and as the fiscal year closes September 10, these state delegates will be appointed at the October meeting.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, president of the local chapter and state vice-president, plans to attend the convention and she stated that she felt sure several Bay St. Louis members would attend. Mrs. Fournier will go to Meridian October 22, to attend the state executive board meeting.

Fee Down, Enthusiasm Up.

The Pythians of Seaside Lodge No. 214, Bay St. Louis, attended the regular meeting of the Gulfport K. of P. Lodge Monday night of last week in order to hear words of wisdom and cheer from our Grand Keeper of Records and Secretary Bailey.

We found quite a number of Biloxi brothers at the meeting and the Gulfport Knights made us feel quite at home, as they always do.

After our G. K. R. & S. had made a most interesting and instructive talk every member and visitor in attendance was called on for a speech and no one turned down the chance. The shortest speech being, "Brothers, I am glad to be with you."

All of the Coast lodges of the Order are planning a big drive for membership, and already a number of new applications have been secured by each lodge. At the last session of the Supreme Lodge, the initiation fee was lowered from $25.00 to $15.00, and this action is having a wonderful effect in arousing new interest in the Order, and the boys are having little trouble now in finding worthy pledges who are seeking to gain admittance to our Castle Halls. We were sorry more of the officers of Seaside Lodge could not attend the "get-together" meeting. The eloquent Ed, the courtly Cyril and the genial Ernest, as well as the loyal George.

But there will be plenty of other meetings like this in the next few weeks and some of them we hope will be right here in our own lodge. Cheer up, boys, we're "going good."

TREASURE HUNT.

Fifty guests enjoyed a delightful treasure hunt Thursday night of last week with C. A. Breath, Jr., and Gray Perkins as hosts. The hunt began and ended at the Hotel Weston. The fourteen adults participating in the hunt, each well filled with treasure seekers, were led to a variety of places in search of the elusive "treasure" including Nicholson avenue, Cedar Point, Dunbar Boulevard and Elmwood Manor. The car driven by C. A. Breath, Jr., and containing four passengers were the fortunate finders of the treasure, which was located in the bottom of the swimming pool at the Hotel Weston and was secured by one of the men diving into the tank "clothes and all."

The treasure, which was $10 in gold was divided between the four successful searchers.

Thirty-five Per Cent Increase in Student Enrollment—106 Report for Football Practice—Classes Organized and Students at Study

REA TELLS OF WESTERN VACATION

Found Colorado Enjoyable—Times Good—Met Rotary International Pres.

"I never heard a word of hard times or tight money while I was gone, and I never saw a sick or deformed person," George R. Rea, president of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company, stated upon his return from a month's delightful vacation which he and Mrs. Rea spent in Colorado, visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bradford at their summer home 26 miles from Denver, in the Colorado mountains.

Mr. Bradford is a member of the national executive committee of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of which Mr. Rea is national treasurer and while together they completed the publication of a new system of chapter house financing for the fraternity, of which Mr. Rea is one of the authors and Mr. Bradford the publisher. The work is just off the press.

Mr. Rea, an active Rotarian, visited two Rotary Club meetings in Colorado at which he met the international president of Rotary, I. B. Sutton of Tampico, Mexico, who is in Colorado with his wife and children, the children being in school to learn to speak English, Spanish being the conversational medium in the family in that Mrs. Sutton is Spanish. Mr. Sutton is a member of Mr. Rea's fraternity.

While in Colorado a reception was accorded Mr. and Mrs. Rea and Mr. and Mrs. Sutton by the alumni chapter of Kappa Sigma at Mount Vernon, the reception being a combined dance and barbecue, most enjoyable.

Mr. Rea was interested to know that of the 44 countries in which Rotary clubs are organized 22 speak Spanish as the national language.

Denver Progresses

Denver was filled with tourists throughout the summer, each train bearing filled coaches and many coming by motor. Mr. Rea said. Denver is doing its part to please and entertain its visitors, with the completion of 85 miles of mountain roads which the city of Denver paid for with bond issues, and with the wonderful arrangements made on the highways for outdoor living, including the benches, tables and ovens built everywhere.

Life in Colorado from Decoration Day to Labor Day is lived out of doors, with "beef steak" parties taking a prominent part in the entertainment, he said.

Mr. Rea was much interested in the month's dancing marathon which was being staged as a benefit for the disabled veterans and which in 12 days had taken in $50,000 as gate receipts, and from which $1,000 was the prize to be awarded the winners.

At the Bay Rotary Club meeting this week Mr. Rea told of his interesting Western trip. It was one of the best talks heard before the club and he was given the utmost attention throughout the discourse.

GOOD-WILL TOUR REPRESENTATIVE VISITS THE BAY

Suggests That Planes From N. O. Stop on Coast but Finds No Landing Field

A representative from the Tribune of New Orleans visited the Bay this week calling at the Chamber of Commerce in regard to the Good-Will tour which the paper is fostering and which will leave the city this week to make flights to Meridian, Jackson, Vicksburg and Monroe, La. There will be a dozen or more planes participating in this flight.

The representative stated that the tour would be glad to make stops at the Bay and other Coast points but failed to find landing fields sufficient for the use of the planes.

Congressman Visits.

Ross Collins, congressman from the Meridian district, spent Saturday afternoon in the Bay at the guest of Robert L. Genin. Mr. Collins who has been visiting on the Coast motivated over for the visit.

St. Stanislaus College opened Monday morning with the largest enrollment in the history of the school, this enrollment showing a 35 per cent increase over last year, numbering over 190 resident students and over 200 total enrollment. Brother Peter, president, announced. Students are registered from the following states: New Jersey, Ohio, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky.

The students are down to working order and classes have been fully organized and orderly study is in progress.

Present enrollment shows that there will be 42 members of the graduation class, three more than the record.

Rupert Wentworth, a Stanislaus graduate and a graduate of the School of Journalism of Notre Dame has been added to the faculty, teaching special courses in English and other high school subjects. He will handle the publicity for the school for the season.

One hundred six students reported for football practice Tuesday of this week and are being worked out daily by Coach Grady Perkins and Milton Phillips, both of whom coached at the college last year. With this tremendous and overwhelming enthusiasm of the students the coaches anticipate a winning team.

This is the second annual picnic and it is hoped everyone in the county who can do so will be present. Basket dinner will be served on the grounds at noon. A full day of entertainment has been arranged including speaking in the morning by people of county and state-wide prominence and ability, athletic events in the afternoon, including track and events, serious and comic, such as team races for men and women, pillow case races, Hoover tug of war. Bay St. Louis, Miss., under Act of March 3, 1879.TO WISE MERCHANTS ONLY.

The beginning of September brings to Bay St. Louis merchants the so-called "dull season" of the year. The question arises in the mind of every merchant, "How can I get more business?"

The merchant who asks himself this question is anxious to know the people who trade in Bay St. Louis. He is, if honest in his commercial habits, more anxious for the people to know him, his store, his trade habits and his square-dealing policy. He thinks now, as fall begins, how to make known to the public generally his attitude and his goods, which are backed by him.

During the summer months this merchant cut out his advertising, if he had used any, and saved the few dollars that a continuous campaign would have cost him. Now, he must attract the trade. He must have something to do it with. He is up against it. In this frame of mind he is an easy prey to all sorts of business-getting schemes. He will spend his money on some glittering hope put into his susceptible mind by a slick-tongued salesman. He will perhaps overlook the compelling force of a dignified, sustained and honest advertising campaign in a paper like The Sea Coast Echo.

The editor of The Sea Coast Echo believes that advertising is a wonderful force in Bay St. Louis as well as in the larger cities. He believes that The Echo affords the cheapest, worthwhile medium with which to reach the scattered "general public." If he did not so believe he would not solicit advertising for his newspaper.

We feel sure that the Bay St. Louis merchant who wisely plans and executes a continuous and persistent advertising campaign in The Echo will secure unmistakable results. This campaign need not be expensive. It will fit the conditions of every business. It will broadcast, in print, to all who read the invitation of honest merchants, who seek trade upon the basis of service and a fair product for a fair price. Such wholesale dissemination of interesting business items will prove effective. We say this, because we have seen it done. We have heard of its success in thousands of towns throughout the United States.

Money not only talks, it broadcasts.

Politics is what put the "pap" in newspapers.

You can tell a man's politics by the way he talks.

Motto for Bay St. Louis housewife, when a peddler calls: "Charge it."

Editors who dislike the use of scissors probably boast of good memories.

The thinking man doesn't play politics; neither does he permit politicians to play him.

If every poet was executed at sunrise there would be a new crop writing fall odes by nightfall.

The average sweet young collegienne thinks she is too good looking to be bothered with her studies.

The only mental training some children get from their parents is in trying to guess what they will fuss about next.

Correct this sentence: "We regret that the manuscript submitted does not seem to be suited to our special needs."

The well-advertised show girls are not the only "gold diggers" panning at large in this land of the free and so-called brave.

There is no use in anybody getting so excited over the election of a president as to forget to attend to business.

Rain often prevents workers from getting to the office on time but it seldom causes them to put in an extra hour of work.

Advices from the tobacco belt are that prices are low this year; smokers, however, will not know the difference when they buy.

Our extra slice of pie for this week is awarded the blind man who wanted to know if the girls really wore skirts up to their knees.

There are so many kinds of people in Bay St. Louis that you can find some that suit you, regardless of how hard you might be to please.

Never judge a man by the size of his bank account. He may be what some people term a "kid glove thief." There are some of them in the world.

The old man who used to peep around the corner to see the girls step in their buggies now has a son who wonders how a girl would look with all her clothes on.

We wish some mathematical genius would establish, definitely and for all time, how many matches it requires to keep a pipe burning for a good smoke.

Eminent preachers say that the trouble with the youth of the country is to be found in the American home, where the parents fail to assert themselves. Yes, yes, we all know!

Almost any man in Bay St. Louis can tell you a good way to make money faster than ever. Unfortunately, they are tied down by their "responsibilities" and have to pass up fabulous opportunities.

Eleven cheese factories operated in Mississippi now (against none in the early part of 1927) are manufacturing approximately 10,000 good cheeses a day, and the outlook is that more than double this amount will be made in another year—Mississippi Builder.

The Sea Coast Echo invites its subscribers to assist in reporting interesting events in Hancock county. It is inevitable that our regular reporters will miss some of the many happenings that occur unless they are helped by the friends of this paper.

PROPAGANDA AND THE ANSWER.

Discussing Senator Pat Harrison's statement that the South is being flooded with the bitterest Presidential campaign propaganda he has ever seen. The Greenville Piedmont says:

Southerners, although they know that extremes in propaganda by no means are confined to the South this year, deplore their own situation.

The more intelligent citizens do not stoop to extremes or to bitterness, and they are immune from "catching" the ailments thus spread; but they know that the country as a whole, suspects the South of stupidity, ignorance, bigotry and general cussedness and they fear that campaign statements, whether taken seriously in this section or not, are calculated in other sections to spread such suspicion.

Most if not all of the southern states will vote Democratic as usual this year. That will help largely to offset the injury of this suspicion.

This is well put and is calculated to make an impression upon the thoughtful.

NEWSPAPER DYNAMITED.

The sympathy of newspaper editors generally, and the public as well, will go out to Editor King Williams and his brothers, whose newspaper plant at Chicago Heights was wrecked last week by a bomb. No explanation of this outrage is apparent and it must have been the work of some unknown enemy.

The Star has a policy of printing all the news of its community regardless of whom it hits. As Mr. Williams says: "I tell them all about Mrs. Smith's lovely garden but I also publish it if Mr. Smith is arrested in a roadside raid." The newspaper printed considerable news about bootlegger arrests and had received threatening letters which were thrown into the waste basket.

This instance merely emphasizes some of the risks taken by newspaper men when they print the news. It also brings to mind the need of some kind of organization among the newspaper men generally that will afford some protection from these outrages.

NEEDED REGULATIONS.

The importance of the proper regulation of the construction of new buildings in Bay St. Louis cannot be over-estimated. We know that there are some citizens who look upon the enforcement of strict building regulations as foolish but the experience of Shelby, North Carolina, where three brick stores collapsed, killing instantly six people, would be enough to make us pause and think.

The growth of cities and towns produces a concentration of building activities in certain zones. Every builder should be required to adequately safeguard the neighboring structures and to safeguard the public. The man who is willing to properly erect his structures should not be penalized by the parsimony of the citizen willing to reduce expenses by cutting out the usual safety factors.

IS THE "HOT DOG" NECESSARY.

The recent vogue of the "hot dog" has brought to light the interesting query as to whether this popular article of food is a necessity of life.

In Boston, it seems that the baseball parks charge what are termed "exorbitant and excessive prices" for "hot dogs" and the charge has been made before the Massachusetts Commission on Necessities of Life that this represents profiteering in a necessity of life.

The presidents of the baseball clubs contend, it seems with some reason, that "hot dogs," sodas, cigars, peanuts, pies and drinks, as sold at the parks, are not necessities of life. The argument, however, centers around the "hot dogs" which have many devotees in this section who will rise up in defense of the lowly "dog" and demand that it be protected from profiteers wherever the same may be found.

STILL ON THE FENCE.

Reports that Senator Hefflin of Alabama, the only Democratic senator besides Senator Simmons who has not declared for the Democratic Presidential nominee, had definitely made up his mind to vote for Smith seem to have been premature. At least, The Montgomery Advertiser declares that if the senator has made a decision he has not announced it in Alabama.

The Montgomery paper assumes from what Senator Hefflin has been saying in the last several months that he would like very much to lead an anti-Smith movement in his own State; but Tom, it adds, "would not like to lead such a movement if he did not think he could win and apparently he has not been able yet to decide how strong the anti-Smith element in Alabama really is."

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.

Without knowing whether the theory is correct or not we hasten to pass on for the information of Bay St. Louis citizens the declaration of Dr. Humphill, acting City Health Commissioner of the City of Baltimore. He has come to the conclusion that the skin of fruit is a carrier of the germ of infantile paralysis and urges parents to peel all fruit before giving it to their children. This announcement is important if true. However, most parents will prefer to act upon the suggestion without waiting for its scientific determination.

COWS AND CAPITAL FOR COAST.

Coming in of much new capital is stimulating the growth of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, it is stated by Clayton Rand, Gulfport, who adds:

"The Coast is rapidly going forward because capitalists from the North, particularly the Midwest, are turning their attention to it. Real development will begin when the cows come in more largely, for this is a real cow country."

HUMANITARIANISM!

When Fritz von Opel invented his so-called "rocket car," he made a test which met with disaster, causing the death of the sole occupant of the car, which happened to be a cat.

This occurred in Germany, but more than six hundred letters, mainly from American women, came to him, denouncing his cruelty and expressing the wish that he would die in the same manner.

EUROPE HEAVILY ARMED.

The average citizen of Bay St. Louis will find it hard to understand the reason that impels Europe to maintain itself more heavily armed than was the case in 1913 just before the World War commenced.

With the dissolving of the Central Powers and the removal of their "threat" to the peace of Europe, one would suppose that the other countries could afford some measure of disarmament.

Many a man, looking for a big job, will never get it because he forgets his little job.

SOME PARTY HISTORY.

(Atlanta Constitution)

Only the most careful readers of the American political history know that once powerful Whig party, led by such historic statesmen as Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Willie P. Mangum, Winfield Scott, and John McLean, was destroyed by just such factionalism as is today being fomented by disloyal Democrats.

The issue which started the disintegration of the Whig party was that of slavery. It led to the formation of abolition, liberty-abolitionists, and free soil factions, driving many Southern Whigs into the Democratic party and eventually breaking down the Whig alignment to let in the newly-generated republican party in 1856.

Georgia voted Whig in 1836, 1840 and 1848 and then became Democratic and, when free, has been Democratic ever since. The republican party has never been friendly, never even fair and just, to the people of Georgia and their interests. And today the party, neither in platform or pledges of its candidates, has any single thing to offer to the people of Georgia and the south that is more or better than can be had through the Democratic party. Hoover and Curtis mean nothing to the south in the ways of betterment or justice.

The argument for deserting the Democratic party is that national prohibition will be endangered by its control of the federal government.

The excuse is ridiculous. Who brought prohibition into the American constitution? The cause was stuck fast on its eccentric for years and years, hopeless years, until Georgia in 1907 hitched her democratic self to the mired-in water wagon, by her state-wide prohibition act lifted it upon the solid road and started it around the continent to reach its final triumph at the national capital in 1920.

Who championed the national prohibition act and drove it victoriously through the congress? Captain Richard P. Hobson, Alabama democrat, led first drive in the house in 1914 and won a majority dry vote; then in 1916 democratic Senator Sheppard of Texas, and democratic congressman Webb, of North Carolina, captained the eighteenth amendment and won it through to submission to the states.

The first state of the 46 that ratified the amendment was Mississippi, home state of Jeff Davis, and whose senators and representatives are to-day all democrats and all dry! And all are cordially supporting Smith and Robinson, with no fear of ill results happening to prohibition.

Yet we are witness to a faction of southern drys who desert the real prohibition party for the one that is faking prohibition enforcement in the most shameful fashion.

DR. FRANK CRANE

MOSES AND THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

Moses was a Jew, the great grandson of Jacob, who was the first Israelite, and the great-great-great-grandson of Abraham, who was the first Hebrew.

In China they boast of pedigrees thirty centuries long; the only people that can show anything equal to this are the Jews. The proud Jew of this day can look down with contempt upon the Hohenzollerns, the Romanoffs and the Guelphs of Europe, "whose blood has crept through scoundrels since the flood." But to the Egyptians Moses was a slave's son. He was to them a black baby, born in a Louisiana slave hut, would have been to the Southern aristocracy of 1850.

Time has a grim humor. The monarchs of Egypt are today only known as contemporaries of Moses. The Czar of Russia will be known as the contemporary of Tolstoy.

Moses goes up into smoking Sinai and has a conversation with the thunder and lightning. What did they say to him? He shows us when he comes down. There on a stone slab are graven the Ten Commandments.

Whether he really spoke with God or whether he had a hypnotic fit up there in the thunderstorm, the fact remains that in some way he got hold of the toughest, most everlasting and fireproof bundle of truths any son of man ever found.

The Ten Commandments are the most important words in history. They were given by Moses to the Jews, but they have been generally accepted throughout Christendom as the foundation of all law and morals. They are the basis of society in the civilized world.

There is no other instance in history where a rule has been recognized and obeyed by the mass of the most intelligent people for over three thousand years. They are not merely religious teachings inculcated by the church. They lay their restraining hand on every human being.

They function in the home, the market, the street and office. They hold in the wild places of the earth and in the seas.

A VISIT TO DR. STRATON.

(Macon Telegraph)

A young woman from Macon—20 years old—is spending the summer in New York. At home she is active in church work. To be more specific, in Protestant church work. She belongs to one of the two leading denominations in Georgia. Last Sunday night she attended services at Calvary Baptist church in New York, of which Dr. Stratton is the pastor.

In a letter to her mother she describes that service: "Tonight we spent in going to hear the notorious Dr. John Roach Stratton and I mean the service was on the verge of a political meeting. The congregation clapped profusely at every rash statement and at one time a man hollered out, 'No, hell!' In the midst of the sermon a woman left and as she went out yelled, 'Is this the church or a barroom?' I am sending you the program written all over with different things the reverend said. I wouldn't care about being a member of his church, for you can tell by looking at his people that they are not high in the scale of intellectuality. This morning we attended a most worshipful service at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church."

The Telegraph reproduces the letter because it may be useful to other ministers who convert their pulpits into political forums. It is hard, even with the most desperate trying, to be as grotesque as Rev. John Roach Stratton when he is at his best—or worst—but it is possible for the minister to sacrifice his spiritual leadership when he becomes too excited about the human failings of these creatures of the mundane world. The young woman who went to Dr. Stratton's church with the curiosity to see and hear a "notorious character," that morning she went to a church to worship, as she has done all her life. Preachers have it within their power to make their churches either tinseled churches with the barroom atmosphere and bawling political quarrels, or places of worship and fortunately for them and the cause they preach, most of them are keeping politics out of the pulpit.

APPROVAL OF BOND ISSUE WILL MEAN BETTER HIGHWAYS

If Bond Carries Old Spanish Trail Will be Paved From New Orleans to Line

New Orleans.—Granting a favorable vote on the two-cent gas tax amendment in November, New Orleans motorists will be able to enjoy many pleasant trips out of the city, says the Association of Commerce.

Of particular interest to New Orleans is the assurance given by the Louisiana Highway Commission that if the amendment is passed, the Old Spanish Trail will be paved from New Orleans west to the Texas line, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Texas line. The Hammond-New Orleans Highway will also be paved as soon as soil conditions will permit, according to the commission. Other improvements in this section will be undertaken, such as the rebuilding of bridges and the relocation and rebuilding of sections of main line highway that are now inadequate.

The Chef Menteur Highway is now sacrificed from the canal bridge, now in bad condition, will be resurfaced with basic asphalt.

Still further encouraging news for the motorist is the announcement of the opening of bids for free highway bridges at Chef Menteur and Rigolets, the dedication of the bridge at Simmesport and the one over the new basin canal at Lake Charles.

In addition, the Airport road leading from Gretna is being repaired and work is now in progress on the Airline Highway from Baton Rouge.

STEPHENS, JUST RE-ELECTED, CALLS FOR PARTY UNITY

Southern Democrats Must Stay Loyal, Senator Says

A plea for unity in the Democratic party, not alone as a national question but also for the preservation of party principles within the state, was made by Senator Hubert D. Stephens before the Jackson Lion's Club.

Senator Stephens, fresh from his second nomination to a seat in the United States Senate, assured his hearers that he would not be in the politics upon them, but that he considered the question before them one of "grave importance."

"Our party means the South, and the South means our party," he said. "It is dependent on the South. We have not won many victories, but we have records of sound government to point to in those we have won. If I were making a political speech I should refer to the eight years of the Wilson administration."

"I am not sure that we shall win this time around, but let us win at home. Let us keep the Democratic party, our party, together in Mississippi. Our party is not limited to one election."

"There are a great many people who are aroused over Governor Smith's religion. A minister asked me if I did not think the Pope would move to this country to rule if the Democratic nominee were nominated. I replied that none but a few fanatical Catholics would think such a thing and pointed to the country where the Pope lives, Italy, where he does not rule—nor France, which is a Catholic nation."

"Prohibition is not a political issue now. The President could not change the existing laws, and with the greatest distiller this country has ever known now at the head of prohibition enforcement, is it possible that Governor Smith could make things worse, even if he tried?"

LITTLE BOY PETERSON GETS DECISION OVER MORAN IN 10 ROUNDS

Sammy Marino Wins Decision in Semi-Final—Bobby Fay Gets Technical K.O. Over Tod Carver Sam Nichols Knocked Out

On last Tuesday night "Little Boy" Peterson of Kiln, fought one of the hardest fights of his career, to win the decision over Norman Moran of Pascagoula in ten rounds before a crowded house.

Besides Referee Manieri two judges presided, all three of whom favored the Kiln boy, giving him seven of the ten rounds, and one a draw, the other two going to Moran.

"Little Pete" is game as well as tough and outpunched and outboxed his opponent practically from the start to the finish, never at any time being in much danger.

Moran's best punch was a terrific left hook which he landed few and far apart. Pete's overanxiousness, at times to get into his opponent causes him to miss many of his best punches, but other than that he can hit with both hands, and hit hard. Peterson meets Russell Dou-burg of New Orleans, in a return match in the near future.

Marino Wins Over Favre
In the semi-final of six rounds, Sammy Marino of New Orleans won a very close decision over Paul Favre of the Bay. Marino was too fast and clever for Paul, who missed repeatedly, while the New Orleans lad put a left jab in Paul's face through and also outpointed Paul in the infighting.

Bobby Fay Scores Technical K.O.
Bobby Fay of the Bay won a technical knock-out over "Tod" Carver

SEN. ROBINSON FLAYS SMITH'S CRITICS FOR GROSS UNFAIRNESS

Senator Does Not Mince Words—"Whispering Tactics" Of Foes Assailed Sharply In Address at Dallas, Texas

Speaking in plain language Senator Joe Robinson, in his presidential campaign speech for the vice-presidency on the Democratic ticket at Dallas, on Labor Day, wound up reading a prepared address and launched into a heated attack on the accusers of the party's presidential nominee.

Tucking his prepared speech—a discussion of the Democratic position toward labor—in his pocket, the senator edged closer to the microphone and looking squarely into the crowd began talking of Governor Smith and in a moment said:

"The crowd, to a large extent, a Labor Day gathering, applauded and cheered, although up to that time it had not been a very demonstrative audience."

Mr. Robinson said it was regrettable Governor Smith had been assailed unjustly, and declared that within the near future the proposed to speak on what he described as the "whispering campaign" now being conducted in many parts of the South.

Criticizes White
He said William Allen White, Kansas publisher, had brought charges against the Democratic ticket, and sailed for Europe. From abroad, he went on, White issued a retraction and then a retraction or a part retraction of the retraction. It has been said, he continued, that some officials of the Republican committee announced that the retraction should not have been given out.

"If Mr. White had been the man he should have been," the senator exclaimed, "instead of making a half-hearted apology, he would have made a full apology."

The vice-presidential nominee said the statement was abroad that if Smith were elected he would conduct a government of "priest rule" and that it would be a government "of the priest, by the priest, and for the priest."

An American Governor?
"He has no right to be a Catholic governor," he shouted. "He has not been a Baptist governor, nor a Democratic governor, nor a God he has been an American governor."

Mr. Robinson said there was not a more outstanding personality in American politics than Smith. "If you go to any town in the United States," he said, "and refer to 100 names to one when Mr. Hoover is mentioned," he asked, and went on:

"It is disclosed by his record. He always has been loyal and fearless in the discharge of his duties to the masses." The senator was heard to shout to the crowd, which filled the fair grounds grandstand and jammed all spaces between that structure and the speaker's platform, by Senator Morris Shepherd of Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Square Deal for Labor
A promise to labor that the Democratic party if placed in power proposed to end without impairing the righteous authority of the judiciary the granting of injunctions in "pretended emergencies" was made by Senator Robinson.

He advocated protection for the worker from competition with convict labor, adoption of a scientific plan for public works construction in times of unemployment, adjustment of the surplus labor problem resulting from an increased use of machinery, and challenged Republican claims of "exceptional prosperity," declaring that "we all know that unemployment is widespread."

Would Exalt Labor
The vice-presidential nominee said that the party platform approved the "principle of collective bargaining which implies that organized labor shall choose its own representatives without coercion or interference to negotiate with employers," and further, that the party asserted that labor was not a "commodity and therefore not subject to many of those restrictions and restraints" applicable to articles of commerce.

"It is of the utmost importance," he went on, "that labor be exalted above the plane of mere things and given its proper recognition as a function of the human brain and hand."

"We assert that one of the abuses which has grown out of the failure to give due effect to the principle of collective bargaining and the principle that the labor of a human being is not a commodity is the abuse of the injunction."

Rape Injunction Abuse
Numerous instances during recent years may be cited in which the power of the courts has been invoked to restrain the liberty of workingmen on the allegation that they were about to perform acts which would result in irreparable injury, when upon proper notice and hearing it would have been made clear that the injunctive process was sought merely as an aid to defeat the aims and purposes of the law.

"In other words, the process has been abused in labor disputes by granting of injunctions in pretended emergencies. This the Democratic party proposes to end without impairing the righteous authority of the judiciary."

4,000,000 Unemployed
The senator said that statisticians had estimated that approximately 4,000,000 workers are out of employment notwithstanding the "boast frequently repeated by Republican campaign orators that the country is enjoying exceptional prosperity."

"The Democratic platform advocates the adoption," he said, "of a scientific plan after thorough study under which public works may be carried on aggressively in periods of unemployment. It proposes to deal with the problem of surplus labor resulting from the substitution in industry of machinery for human hands."

"It is clear that the Democratic

SMITH CHANCES GROW BETTER, RASKOB AVERS Analysis Shows 277 Sure Electoral Votes For New Yorker

John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, said on his return from the Robinson anti-fascist tour, Hot Springs, Ark., that the Democratic outlook is even brighter now than it was last week when he said in St. Louis that Governor Alfred E. Smith would get 309 electoral votes.

En route East, he said, he was assured that Governor Smith would carry Illinois and Indiana and also Ohio if his acceptance speech appealed to farmers as much as state leaders believed it had.

"There were states with 185 electoral votes with which I was not at all sure," he said, "but I was sure that I gave out that St. Louis statement," he said, "I said that we expected to get at least 100 of those. These three states, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio, were included in that 100."

At Least 277
In discussing an analysis of the states by Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, vice-chairman of the Republican Eastern advisory committee, Chairman Raskob said that Governor Smith would receive at least 277 electoral votes.

"If you give the South to Smith," he said, "plus Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Kentucky, that makes 149 electoral votes."

"Senator Moses does not claim Arizona, Wisconsin, Montana, Maryland, or Missouri. There are 46 more votes."

"Hardly anybody in the East at the moment thinks the Republican chances are as good as the Democratic chances in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Rhode Island. There are 92 more electoral votes. The total is 277."

"Does Not Prohibit"
Mr. Raskob said he came back from his trip with the belief that generally, throughout the country, the feeling is that "prohibition does not prohibit."

"Industrial leaders I come in contact with," he said, "think that prohibition is a good thing for working men, but don't believe in abstaining from drink themselves. Maybe that is all right, but I don't think it square with our scheme of government, where all men are supposed to have equal opportunities."

"The feeling is that generally throughout the country the feeling is that prohibition does not prohibit—that it is just a scheme to prohibit those without money from having something that those with money have."

"A lot of people say that doing away with liquor will do a lot for us with our prosperity. I don't think there is any justification for that conclusion. I think our prosperity has come from high wages we have paid as the result of enormous consumption."

program is not radical. It is progressive. Noting that living conditions are constantly improving Democrats seek to avoid the forces which threaten to interrupt the steady advancement of organized labor."

By the time the vice-presidential election on November 6, 1928. They said that many measures had been enacted at that time in the interest of the workingman and added that in his capital are kept. The capital grounds of Washington are said to be the handsomest in the United States and the capital grounds of Mississippi

Reviews Wilson's Record
The senator reviewed at some length the record of the Wilson administration toward labor and said that many measures had been enacted at that time in the interest of the workingman and added that in his capital are kept. The capital grounds of Washington are said to be the handsomest in the United States and the capital grounds of Mississippi

He concluded by saying that Governor Smith by "his record of honest service to the great body of his constituents" and that "he has earned the respect and affection of millions of men, women and children who dwell in humble homes and walk in lonely ways but whose hearts are loyal to all that is best in our government."

Senator Sheppard said that Texas would be a "doubtful" state this fall—doubtful as to whether it will give the Democratic ticket a majority of 250,000 or 300,000.

Obligated to Party
This statement was greeted with applause as was the utterance by Mr. Sheppard that Texas and the South are obligated to the Democratic party, which largely was responsible for the admission of the state to the Union.

"The Texas senator himself was introduced by Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, who declared that 'Senator Sheppard thought the prohibition law the greatest law ever written.'"

"When he can find it with his conscience to support Governor Smith," the lieutenant-governor said, "I wonder what kind of a conscience can't support him."

Miller in turn was presented by Congressman Summers of the Dallas district, who said that he had not been an original Smith man, but that he was wholeheartedly for the ticket.

Big Crowd Hears Joe
A big crowd gathered when the South had needed support, that came to its aid and that it was incorrect to say that Governor Smith was the nominee of Tammany.

Governor Dan Hooper, who accompanied Senator Robinson, the speakers' platform, occupied a seat back of the vice-presidential nominee but did not participate in the speaking.

Mirrors of Mississippi

By Edgar S. Wilson

The announcement that Richard Quay, son of Senator Matthew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania, and that Spencer Penrose, brother of the late Senator Boise Penrose, also of that state, will not support Hoover, the Republican nominee for president, but will support Smith, the Democratic nominee, recalls the connection of the father and brother of these gentlemen with an interesting Mississippi incident.

Before the war between the states Matthew Stanley Quay taught school in Madison County, Mississippi. At the outbreak of the war, as stated by him, he hastened back to Pennsylvania, fearing that if he remained in Mississippi much longer he would join the Confederate Army. After Quay became United States Senator from Pennsylvania he had Mrs. Baldwin, a daughter of the household where he was boarding while teaching school, appointed post master at Canton, Mississippi. When he died he left a codicil to his political will asking his colleague, Boise Penrose, to perpetuate Mrs. Baldwin's holding.

The State Board Election Commissioners have named the three county election commissioners for the eighty-two counties of Mississippi. These commissioners hold for two years or until their successors are appointed. The office of county election commissioner is one of responsibility, with numerous and important duties. It is learned that the newly appointed commissioners are consulting the law so as to be thoroughly familiar with their duties.

The list of Democratic presidential electors are given in order that the Democratic men and women of the state may be familiar with them when they come to vote at the presidential election on November 6, 1928. They are J. A. McFarland, C. E. Dorrah, W. H. Kier, Wilmer Kennedy, D. T. Ruff, V. D. Rowe, J. H. Davis, Mims Williams, E. E. Maddux and Louis J. Wise.

Secretary of State Walker Wood, whom the constitution makes keeper of the capital and the capital grounds, is being highly complimented by visitors who come and go upon the handsome manner in which the grounds of both the old and the new capital are kept. The capital grounds of Washington are said to be the handsomest in the United States and the capital grounds of Mississippi

From reports which reach the capitol aspirants for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the August primary of 1931, will not be quite as plentiful as blackberries in June, but largely in excess of that of any other primary since the primary law was approved in 1902. Some people run and others think they run.

Fresh Fiction Required
"Mother is the necessity for invention," said father as he tried to invent a new excuse for being out late—Times of India.

"Oh! I've murdered my husband!" said Sergeant Wall, you're in the wrong place, lady—that ain't no vau-deville booking office!

His Last Notice
Then there was the absent-minded Chicago bandit who, after lighting a bomb, tossed the match away.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

(By Echo Staff Writer)

On Friday last week the long chase of Connie Mack for the top of the American League came to success, for on the close of that evening, after the Athletics had whipped Boston twice, and the Senators of Washington had scalped the Yankees twice, the two teams were tied for first place.

It has been a great piece of work on the part of the Athletics. Ten weeks ago they were definitely and finally out of the fight. The dopest counted "ten." We did. And, yet even if the Yankees rally and win the flag the American League, has come to life with an amazing struggle, marked with all the dramatic element of a real fight.

The Athletics, up to going into the tie had won 48 out of their last 65 games and while this was showing the Philadelphia punch the best that the Yankees could do was to win 40 out of 70. On form, the dope is all in favor of the minions of Connie Mack. They are the class of the league by the records, regardless of what the Yankees do to them in their joint combats.

W. L. Stribling, pride of Georgia in the ring, stopped Johnny Squire in short order last week, the referee ending the bout in the first half of the second round, when Squires was all out on his feet. The victory was decisive and positive. Squires' claim to fame was an almost even technical fight with Risko.

Almost every pennant fight produces a battalion of whisperers who try to poison the atmosphere by vague references to "thrown series." One of the choicest tidbits of the many trades which have occurred between Boston and New York in the National League. It was said that the Braves would ease-up against the Giants and that the New Yorkers would be effectively aided in their pennant quest. Recently the teams met for a series of three games and when the dust cleared away, Bostonians had taken three games straight, and the Giants were sprawled on the ground, practically out of the pennant fight.

The Boston Braves announce that Roger Hornsby holds a six year contract and will continue to manage the team for that period. For the next three years, he has agreed to serve as a playing-manager and after that as manager if unable to carry on as a player.

WORK AND PLAY
AT S. J. A.

It does feel good, so all the girls say, to be back together once more at dear old S. J. A. School is in full swing since Monday as the two registration days of last week afforded ample time for the arranging of classes and the purchasing of text books.

Resolutions to study harder than ever were voiced by the majority of students and the air seems permeated with a determination on the part of all to come out ahead this year. All are already hard at work, from the tiny tots of the primer class who are being initiated to the wonders of the Lewis story method in reading and who are having a delightful time with that method's fairies, to the dignified seniors of class '29 who have decided to write their names indelibly in the annals of S. J. A.

The boarding school enrollment justifies all anticipations concerning it, most of the old timers are back again and the register boasts many names particularly among the larger girls of high school department. Among the newcomers to whom S. J. A. extends a most cordial welcome are the following: Emy Weiss, Virginia Bixby, Agnes Bixby, Carmen Chassagnol, Eleanor Attaway, Carrie Koenen, Marjorie Banderet, May Tounne, Elizabeth Fitch, Frances Fitch, Audrey Sterne and Elizabeth Daggett.

Opening Day—As Seen by a Senior Friends, Fellow Students and Teachers! Don't you think it's about time that standing joke about the reluctance of scholars in returning to school should be revealed in all its falsity?

We all know how simply ridiculous it is. As a participant in ferocious hugs, a recipient of loving kisses, and having uttered some "un-senior like" yells of delight I feel capable of refuting this absurd joke.

At S. J. A. Monday was "opening day." All halls and stairways were monopolized by groups of smiling, no, grinning school girls. Everybody talked at once and most sentences were half completed, yet despite it all news was traveling at a terrific speed.

When by some inexplicable means a semblance of order was achieved and the supposedly distasteful subject of studies was discussed why, those girls still continued to smile. "Good natured offers of 'grades' were received with voluble thanks. Even when one strove frantically to recall the "ablativus—fourth declension" or the English of "amo"—well, laughter attended the efforts, and the girls left with faces "warmed in smiles" as the p.c.'s say. So, after witnessing such a scene one feels pretty much like inviting the authors of such poor wit to an "opening day" at S. J. A.

Coupled with the gay, jolly sides of opening day was a touch of the serious. Those whose school days end in June are filled with determination to make this the "year of years" in an all-around interpretation. Those more fortunate than we Seniors are just as resolute to really work hard. "Alas! The poor Freshies, in the verdant state and with the ominous clouds of "initiation" lowering, well, they aren't saying much except resolving to take their medicine like sports. We welcome 'em into "H!" as well as our other new students and ask their aid in making S. J. A. proud of her girls.
